

Aims of SPCA talks

“Respect for life begins with concern for Animals”. At the SPCA, we believe education is an important means of cultivating an individual’s respect for life and love of animals, and helps raise an awareness of animal welfare issues. Our talks are designed so that participants can develop a concern for animals, learn about their needs and feelings, and give careful thought to their well-being. We believe that caring for animals encourages respect for humans as well. We welcome you to join us on a tour of our facilities – or to have us deliver a lecture off-site – and learn to become a more caring and considerate person.

(A) Visit to SPCA (HK) Headquarters

- ◆ Tuesday to Saturday*: 11:00 – 12:45 / 15:00 – 17:30 (any 75 min. booking)
- ◆ Closed on Sundays and Public Holidays

*On specific Saturdays every month (please contact our staff for details)

Rundown: Our presentations focus on the concept of animal welfare, the responsibility involved in looking after pets and some of the wider aspects of animal well-being. Then follow with a live tour of our Homing Department, which illustrates the sad situation many animals (dogs, cats, rabbits and hamsters, etc.) find themselves in when unkindly abandoned by their owners. We hope this will help visitors reflect on the public’s current general poor attitude towards animals and the community.

(B) Invite a SPCA (HK) lecturer to your school or organization

Time : The talk is approximately 60 minutes, including the presentation and Q & A session. We can provide a live tour of our Homing Center after the talk.

Venue : Arranged by the school or organisation

No. of participants : No less than 50 people (Maximum about 300 people)

Age : 3 years old or above

Fee : HK$1200 (without live tour) / HK$1800 (with live tour)

- ◆ 2 microphones
- ◆ An LCD projector and screen
- ◆ A computer

Photographs will be taken with participating schools during the talk and tour, whether at the SPCA centre or off-site. The SPCA retains the right to use these pictures for appropriate promotion.

Fundraising Programme for the SPCA Centennial Centre

To meet an increasing demand for the diverse services we offer in humane education, community outreach and animal welfare, we are building a new education and welfare hub on Tsing Yi in 2021. This Centennial Centre will mark the 100th anniversary of the SPCA. The facility will double our existing capacity for humane education talks and other educational programmes for students of all ages and contribute to creating harmony in local society. Importantly, the Centre will also provide enhanced veterinary facilities for animals in need with the latest diagnostic and surgical equipment.

The SPCA has played a unique role for over 99 years in Hong Kong in promoting empathy and kindness to all living creatures and helping to prevent animal cruelty. The completion of the SPCA Centennial Centre will enable us to extend our animal-related services and community education to wider areas of the New Territories, benefiting more people and animals.

The Centre is gradually taking shape and is expected to open in mid-2022. We are raising funds to defray the building costs and to purchase the all-important state-of-the-art equipment. We invite you to support us with a donation so that this new education and welfare hub can be operational as soon as possible for the benefit of our animals, our children and Hong Kong's broader community.

Every cent counts in helping us to reach our goal!
Thank you for your kind support!
