

Aims of SPCA talks

“Respect for life begins with concern for Animals”. At the SPCA, we believe education is an important means of cultivating an individual’s respect for life and love of animals, and helps raise an awareness of animal welfare issues. Our educational talks are designed so that participants can develop a concern for animals, learn about their needs and feelings, and give careful thought to their well-being. We believe that caring for animals encourages respect for humans as well. We welcome you to have us deliver an off-site education talk and learn to be a more caring and considerate person.

Invite a SPCA (HK) lecturer to your school or organization

Time : The talk is approximately 60 minutes in length, which includes the presentation and Q & A session. We can provide a live tour of our homing centre after the talk.

Venue : Arranged by the school or organisation

No. of participants : No less than 50 people (Maximum about 300 people)

Age : 3 years old or above

Fee : HK$1200 (without live tour) / HK$1800 (with live tour)
(Special content request: Extra HK$600/section)

Fundraising Programme for the SPCA Centennial Centre

To meet an increasing demand for the diverse services we offer in humane education, community outreach and animal welfare, we are building a new education and welfare hub on Tsing Yi in 2021. This Centennial Centre will mark the 100th anniversary of the SPCA. The facility will double our existing capacity for humane education talks and other educational programmes for students of all ages and contribute to creating harmony in local society. Importantly, the Centre will also provide enhanced veterinary facilities for animals in need with the latest diagnostic and surgical equipment.

The SPCA has played a unique role for over 99 years in Hong Kong in promoting empathy and kindness to all living creatures and helping to prevent animal cruelty. The completion of the SPCA Centennial Centre will enable us to extend our animal-related services and community education to wider areas of the New Territories, benefiting more people and animals.

The Centre is gradually taking shape and is expected to open in mid-2022. We are raising funds to defray the building costs and to purchase the all-important state-of-the-art equipment. We invite you to support us with a donation so that this new education and welfare hub can be operational as soon as possible for the benefit of our animals, our children and Hong Kong's broader community.

Every cent counts in helping us to reach our goal!
Thank you for your kind support!
